Statement from the Marin County Superior Court on the Passing of Chief Probation Officer Marlon Washington

The Marin County Superior Court is deeply saddened by the unexpected passing of Marin County Chief Probation Officer Marlon Washington.

Chief Washington dedicated his career to public service and was widely respected for his thoughtful leadership, commitment to restorative justice, and unwavering dedication to the people of Marin County. Throughout his tenure, he was a trusted partner to the Court and to justice system stakeholders, working collaboratively to improve outcomes for individuals, families, and our community.

Chief Washington's professionalism, integrity, and compassion earned the admiration and respect of colleagues across Marin County and throughout California's probation community. His legacy will live on through the many lives he touched, the people he mentored, and the lasting impact of his service.

On behalf of the Marin County Superior Court, we extend our heartfelt condolences to Chief Washington's family, friends, colleagues in the Marin County Probation Department, and all who had the privilege of knowing and working with him. Our thoughts are with them during this difficult time.
